REMINISCENCE OF THE CAPTURE

hat Hell Is and Where It Is-A Brother who Will Not be Suppressed-Brother French's Story of the Man who Seized his ece and Bore her from the Altar.

The Methodist preachers met in the mission chapel, at Broadway and Elesenth street, on Monday evening. The Rev. Mr. Lacy, of the Newark Conference, a tall, fair-hred Englishman, was called on by the Rev. Dr.
Porter to open the meeting. Brother Lacy's prayer called forth loud responses and fervent ejaculations. No sooner had brother Lacy uttered the final amen than a short, dark, neatly-attired old gentleman arose in the body of the chapel and began to speak in a loud, clear one. So close was the dark, short brother's irst word on the heels of the fair, tall brother's last word that everybody was startled and urned to see who the speaker was.

"I have a word to say," the short brother uted, "before you begin the discussion." "You are out of order," the Chairman cried but the dark brother did not heed.

WHERE AND WHAT HILL IS. There are many who want to know where and what hell is," the short brother went on, in a shrill tone. "I'll tell you what it is. It's 'the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone.' You, as Methodist preachers, must take this thing up just as the Bible puts it. There's a hell, the Book says, and you've got to tackle it; so there's no use trying to squirm around it."

The dark, short gentleman sat down. The Chairman, without taking the slightest notice of the speaker, named the subject for discussion. "How to promote evangelical revivals." The Rev. Mr. French was called on to lead.

Brother French said that he would tell them his own experience in such matters. One field differed from another, and one laborer from another, All ministers had not the same talents, and all fields had not the same properties. One mm slays the Lord's enemies with an ox-goad. Another man brings down the glant that defie. God with a pebble. Another man slaughters the foes of heaven

WITH THE JAW BONE OF AN ASS.

[Here several of the younger brethren tittered.] There were two disqualifications mentioned in the bible to a minister's doing good. One was when he was partial in the law. The priests, Malachi said, were partial in the law, and God made them base and contemptible. The devil whispered, "You must not be personal," but this fear of man, this dodging responsibilities made a minister base in the eyes of the congregation. Again, it was said in the Bible that the priests could not come up to the temple, because they were not sanctified. This was the matter with some ministers. Their salaries were not sufficient, they said, and so they went outside to speculate in stocks and lots, depending upon their own skill to make a living instead of upon God. [Here many of the brethren looked at each and smiled.] A minister must stick to soulsaving and trustin God. ["That's it!"] Brother French said it was not until

HE FELT AS A GRASSHOPPER
in the presence of Jesus that he felt right. Then Jesus allowed the grasshopper to crawl into Him and the grasshopper became a giant of Groy De Toucol. I Now, he was not atraid of any man. If all the brethren before him were bishops he would not be afraid of them—not that he meant to say bishops were better than anybody else. They must have faith. They must believe that when they let down the net. God will make it fall where the fish are. When the people saw the minister had faith, they would have faith, too. When General Gilmore was before Sumter, be kept giving the order, "Send us ammunition and stores." As he said this he had the light of faith in his eyes, and the boys saw it and were ready for anything. (Applause.) They must trike low, and then they would bag the game. By and by they could go for higher game. They must be thankful for what God gives, even though it should be a half drunken man or a little boy. On one of his stations there was a place he left until last, because he thought a protracted meeting there would be useless. He went, though, and he had HE FELT AS A GRASSHOPPER

A HARD TUSSLE WITH THE DEVIL.

It was fighting against hell's sway. He got an old cooper's shop and put up a few rough benches. Five inquirers went to the altar. He turned out the persons who wanted no prayers and locked the door. A knock came to the door. He went to it and saw a man, who said that if he would let him in he would be quiet. He admitted him. The man went right for the altar, selzed his niece, who was one of the penitents, by the waist, and fought his way out of the meeting with her. His only success there was a little ignorant boy. But that boy was now Brother Sykes of the China Mission. [Loud ejaculations.]

Brother McLean followed with some sensible remarks on the necessity of sympathy. Just as the benediction was pronounced, the short dark brother again rose and shouted out something about "the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone." He could not obtain a hearing. Several brethren gathered around him, and he was suppressed. A HARD TUSSLE WITH THE DEVIL.

The meeting agreed to unite with a committee of local preachers in procuring a monument to be erected over the grave of Philip Embury, the founder of Methodism in America.

Get Control of the Government Printing. Washington, Feb. 11.—The District Ring made a desperate attempt yesterday to put through a resolution from the House Judi-clary Committee instructing the Committee on Appropriations to report an item of $5,000,000 in one of the appropriation bills for the benefit of the Board of Public Works. The board, aided by all the lobbvists they could muster, have been working up this second raid on the Treasury for several days, and were quite sure of putting it through to-day. Boss Shepherd and Delegate Chipman got up a reply to Roosevelt's speech, which they printed in yesterday's Globe, and under the cover of their false statements they expected again to humbug the House. The speech of Chipman was not delivered in the House, but leave to print was asked and obtained. It is grossly insulting and altogether unparliamentary, and could not have been spoken in the House.

A TRANSPARENT FRAUD.

ATRANSPARENT FRATD.

Tables and extracts from the report of the board are given, but on comparing them with the original report put out by Shepherd & Co., I ascertained that they had been altered in many particulars. On making further inquiry, I found they had actually suppressed the first report and reprinted it with sundry corrections. Did New York's Tammany ever attempt so daring and barefaced a fraud as this? What else is it but a confession that their first report was a fraud and would not stand investigation? The action of the House to-day shows that such work as this will not always win. Credit Mobilier Bingham made several attempts to report his resolution, but he was choked off every time. Mr. Potter of New York, who is on the Judiciary Committee, declares that the resolution was mever authorized to be reported by that committee, and he will so state if another attempt is made to pass it in the House.

Another of the Schemes

made to pass it in the House.

ANOTHER OF THE SCHEMES

which the District Ring is pushing with all its force is to give the printing of the Globe to W. J. Murtagh, the publisher of the National Republican. At the last session of Congress the Commit ee on Public Printing was instructed to receive proposals for printing the Congressional Globe. A number of bids has been received, and among others was one from Murtagh, with H. D. Cooke and Alex. R. Shepherd as his sureties. This bid is an itemized one, and the sum is some $80,000 lower than that of the present publishers of the Globe; but this is only a tub to catch the whale. It is a fraud and a snare on its face. For instance, the cost of reporting the debates is placed at $2.25 per column, while the present price paid is $4.50. The present corps of reporters in the Senate and House is one of the ablest in the world. The chiefs in both Houses, J. J. McElhone and D. J. Murphy, have been reporting for more than twenty-three years, and their places cannot be supplied in this country even at the present rates, much less at the price Murtagh agrees to pay.

NO SAVING TO THE GOVERNMENT.

Murtagh agrees to pay.

NO SAVING TO THE GOVERNMENT.

But this is not all. By formal action of both Houses the reporters were some years since made quasi officers of both Houses, and their salaries in all probability will remain the same, even if the contract is given to Murtagh at his prices. Thus it will be seen that nothing will be saved on this item. The same holds good of every one of the items in Murtagh's bid, which are below the figures of Rives & Bailey.

But there is a still greater objection than any flave mentioned to giving the contract to this stool pigeon of Cooke and Shepherd. The District King want to make the Globe a partisan organ, to use it as a means of influencing Congress. If they secure the job, they will have as active lobby agents on the floor of both Houses some ten reporters, to whom every member will be more or less under obligations. The influence these men could exert, if they were unscrupulous enough to do it, would be worth anore to the Ring than all the lobby they could find outside, even including the whole of the newspaper correspondents, one half of whom they have already subsidized.

they have already subsidized.

THE INITIAL STEP TO WHOLESALE PLUNDER.
This scheme of controlling the Congressional Globe is only one of many which this corrupt Ring has for obtaining absolute control of all the official business of the district. They have what is known as the Columbia Bank Note Printing and Engraving Company, of which Dooke and Shepherd are the principal stock-bolders. The office of this concern is in Shepherd's building on Pennsylvania avenue. It is a first of the control of the workmen or presses, yet the Ring are making desperate efforts to get the Bureau of Engraviag and Printing in the Treasury Department abolished and the contract with the National Bank Note Company resoluted, in order that the bogus Columbia can control all the engraving and printing of the Government. They are also seeking to have the public printing office abolished and the public printing office a company which they are about to organize. The initial step to all these plunder schemes is to secure the printing of the Congressional Globe at this session. If the contract is not made now, the present contract with Rives & Bailey will hold for two years longer; hence the desperate exertions of the Ring to secure it.

The children like it and they tell
If cures their Colds and makes them well;
And mothers seek the store to try it,
With hundreds who desire to buy it.
